DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 28-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 28 recites "detect whether an error has been occurred in read-out data, corrects errors in the read-out data, counts the number of failure data in changing of data". Claim 31 recites "write the data and the check code into said memory unit, counts the number of errors in the data and the check code after the write". The features of claims 28 and 31 are not supported in the specification. For example, the specification fails to teach "write the data and the check code into said memory unit".
